NO MORE CALLS.

Another six months of the present crisis and we shall all be a wiser and better people. The crisis in its career is sweeping away many great abuses and carrying with it reforms which will have a lasting effect. For the last year this market has been infested with a number of mushroom companies, which, as our colleague the Nacional very properly remarks, have no capital, no business and really no "raison d'etre" save to keep their expensive offices open and pay clerks, managers, directors &c. To support the useless expense fresh calls are periodically made on the unfortunate shareholders, and we unite with our colleague in his efforts to put a stop to all this, close the offices, dismiss the clerks and liquidate the concern, before the public is bled still further to subscribe for their support.

To all who thoroughly know this market it must be obvious that there are fully 500 companies in this city with brass plates on their doors that sooner or later must be wound up. Their existence emphasizes the crisis, and the fresh calls which they make on their shareholders is an abuse which the crisis itself must correct, as it is possible, if money ruled easier, many of the shareholders would pay up in the vain hope of the shares rising in value and thus being able to get out of the concern without loss; but the money market is too tight and the crisis too severe to admit of any such hope. Things are getting on too sound a basis to admit of these concerns ever taking root, at least in the present generation; the sooner, therefore, they are wound up the better.

There are shares of companies marked fully paid up and which are pledged in the banks in 'caucion' for money lent, and yet now it turns out that not one cent has been paid on these shares for which pagarés or vales were given, and which pagarés are now protested for non-payment. Formerly such practice as this was unknown in this market, but last year all our rules were broken down, and thus these companies with a nominal paid-up capital of millions have nothing but pagarés to represent that capital, whilst the shares were accepted in the market as fully paid-up and money freely lent upon them.

Thus, for instance, a man subscribes for 1,000 shares fully paid-up, of 100 m|n per share, and gives the company his "pagaré" at six months for 100,000 m|n, the par value of the stock, whereupon he receives the shares, which he takes to some of the State or private banks and pledges for an advance of, say, 50,000 m|n. The "pagarés" come due and have to be renewed, and as long as money keeps easy and the market quotation of the shares keeps up, the "caucion" is renewed; but a crisis comes, the price of the share falls, the "caucion" is called up and can't be paid, nor even the shares sold, and later on the shareholder fails his "pagares" are protested. And thus it is with very many of the failures that have occurred in this market.

We put it to our readers, is it just or right that such a rotten system should any longer be tolerated? All such concerns are in the air, started on nothing, without capital, and we may add, without business; the sooner they are shut up the better. The losses, of course, are heavy, but they fall more on the money-lending institutions than upon the public. Not so those companies with one or two calls paid up, and which are now unable to pay their very office expenses without the assistance of another call. Here we have an element of danger and inconvenience to the whole market, as, unfortunately, many respectable parties were inveigled last year into subscribing for these stocks, and now they must go on paying call upon call until the whole capital is paid up; and it is to this unmitigated nuisance that our colleague the Nacional very properly calls attention. The remedy seems to rest with the shareholders themselves, who have a right to call a special meeting and vote for the immediate liquidation of the company. The city is filled with such companies, all the central streets in town bear their signboards and brass plates—mere rubbish; the sooner they are taken down the better, as their presence reminds us all of last year's errors and this year's troubles.

Congress

THE GOLD DUTY BILL.

DEPUTY LARSEN DEFENDS AND DEPUTY MAGNASCO ATTACKS.

MINISTET URIBURU WINS THE DAY.

The shabby old precincts of Congress were crowded yesterday, like this time last year, with the commercial elite of the city. We recognised in the galleries the familiar countenances of the leading bankers, merchants, and brokers. The scene wafted us back to the days of the Varela excitement and produced a train of thought that revived all the experimental financial philosophy of the past: it looked like a nightmare in which bags of gold fleeing skyward were replaced by bales of shinplasters piled upon the unfortunate dreamer—the market.

Minister Uriburu sat in the same chair as Mr. Varela twelve months ago—but this time positivism sat in the place of idealism, and in the trajectory that separates those two extremes we may record an experience that has tested the vitality of the country and has confirmed the traditional folly of man. Minister Uriburu, as he sat to-day on the Ministerial bench, revived the same hopes, the same expectations, nay, the same fears as Mr. Varela when he entered the lists to defend his famous bill. Minister Uriburu, however, has not the same formidable opponent to tackle: Mr. Varela had to overcome the iron logic of Deputy Escalante, but he had the whole phalanx of the House in favor of his bills. Minister Uriburu had merely to tackle the harmonious rhetoric of Deputy Magnasco, but that opposition actually came from the Government benches. But there is this immense difference—Mr. Varela had to propound a new school of political economy to explain his experimental finances, whilst Mr. Uriburu yesterday, had the easy task of convincing people of the urgent necessity of a measure without which an enormous deficit must creep into the Budget.

As the Secretary read out the clauses of the Gold Duty Bill, Deputy Larsen del Castaño, as informing member of the Finance Committee, opened fire. In quaint, conversational style he showed the imperious necessity of the Bill and in a "lapsu linguæ" referred to the empire of Brazil, where the same step had been adopted recently. He also explained the motives of the Committee in introducing a new clause into the original bill, repealing the 15 per cent gold difference charged on duties up to date. The new bill stipulates that all Customs' duties shall be collected 50 o|o in paper and 50 o|o in gold, or the paper equivalent of that gold at an official valuation to be fixed thrice a week. The informing member then portrayed the situation of the Government, the necessity of the step, and concluded with the convincing argument of figures.

Deputy Magnasco then took the floor to answer Deputy Larsen del Castaño. In low and impressive tones he began what may be styled a very effective piece of oratory. Round the dry skeleton of a financial dissatation he heaped in tropical luxuriance a veil of rhetorical flowers of the choicest description. His speech was a literary effort that must have strained all his powers of imagination and of language. He began his subject, with nothing less than the prosaic crisis, like an antiquarian "ab ovo," and in a majestic sweep showed how their causes were everlastingly the same and their effects also. He then tackled the subject in detail, and in his cursory explorations flitted across all the countries of Europe in such exquisite language that we can only compare the performance to that of a humming-bird darting from bud to bud in a garden of bloom. What coloring, what imagery, what multifarious playing on all the chords of feeling! The eloquent deputy seemed to run riot in his analysis of the crisis, and the gallery applauded to the echo. After this brilliant exordium, he attacked the gold duty bill, on the plea that in the history of Argentine crises, all Government measures had proved useless. The orator then produced some sound arguments against the Bill, especially the one in which he viewed the collection of duties as a fifty per cent increase in the duties; and herein he is quite right, no matter what may be argued to the contrary. The Bill is "ipso facto" an increase in the duties. The talented deputy showed that this was an evil moment to increase the burdens on the people and would increase the already strong current of emigration from these shores. Then in a magnificent peroration all the fire, kept latent in a prosaic study of economies, burst forth and he made a deep impression when, calling on the Government to retrench, he quoted the famous words of Avellaneda that "Argentines would economise in their hunger and thirst to meet their obligations."

Minister Uriburu in his reply began by paying a compliment to the deputy's magnificent oratory. Taking up the train of the deputy's arguments he showed how crises tested the virility of a nation. One for one he also picked out the European nations that had suffered great trials. Alluding to France, he showed how the virility of that country stood the test of all trials, how in a terrible moment every Frenchman put his hand in his pocket to respond to M. Thiers' call for five milliards. He dwelt on Italy and Cavour, sketching with much ability and brevity the political and financial trials of that country. Italy, he said, is again in the throes of a financial crisis. Russia he refused to consider as out of the question in any comparison with Argentina. All great crises, he shewed, had been overcome at the expense of great sacrifices in which the people and the Government were victims alike.

With regard to the odium that the eloquent deputy had thrown on the first loan of the country, that of £1,000,000 with Baring Bros. in 1824, the Minister said that there was no doubt that that financial operation had cost the country 30 million dollars; but, he said, that loan opened the doors to Argentine credit, then an intruder on the world's money-market: that loan was the birth of Argentine credit and helped the country to gather the laurels of Ituzaingo.

All invectives against loans he considered idle, as they were as necessary to nations as to individuals. Loans, he said, were not remedies, but they helped to tide over situations and prepare the way for reform. He agreed with the eloquent deputy that rigid economy, honest government, and the severest control were necessary to cure crises. With such a policy this country could get over all its present difficulties, for none of the sources of wealth had been exhausted. But this was not a moment to talk of a general plan to apply a remedy to the situation: such a plan would develop at leisure in a calm study of the many causes of the crisis. The situation at present was like that of a house on fire when immediate steps must be taken to stop the conflagration. At this moment the revenue of the Government was ending in smoke. He did not propose a remedy to the crisis in his gold duty bill, he took a measure to enable the government to govern, for without money it was impossible to govern. Neither were loans remedies: they were merely palliatives to give breathing-time. At present 26 millions were wanting to meet gold obligations alone and the most rigid economy would have to be resorted to even with gold duties coming in.

He denied the imputation that the Gold Duty Bill was an increase in taxation. He showed how the law provided that all goods in the Custom House should be appraised according to their value: and herein the Government had for the last three years been singularly generous, since the gold tariff in rule was appraised at the nominal figures in paper. The Government actually had a right to charge on all articles at their full value; this he would not do, he was content to close one eye and merely ask for fifty per cent. The Custom Law had not been altered and would not be altered, not even to the amount of one cent; but "curso forzoso" had altered the conditions and the Government had abided by that change to help the market; thus the Treasury had sacrificed two-thirds of the revenue in the last two years.

The collection of the duties in gold was a painful necessity of the times: as such it must be regarded, but the Government in no manner had overstepped the law; on the contrary it merely asserted a fraction of its rights.

The Minister ended his speech amidst great applause. The Bill was then put to the vote and carried. Some objections were raised in second reading, but they were overruled.

Our Mails.

(Per R. M. S. Thames.)

London, April 24.

In the House of Commons yesterday, Mr Lea moved the second reading of the Intoxicating Liquors (Ireland) Bill, which makes Sunday closing in Ireland permanent, and applicable to the whole country, extends the 'bona-fide' travellers' limit from three to six miles, and provides for closing at nine o'clock on Saturday evenings. Mr. Peter McDonald moved that it was inexpedient to proceed with the measure, inasmuch as the sense of the Irish people had not been obtained upon it. The Attorney General for Ireland supported the second reading of the Bill, but added that he would move an amendment in Committee providing for the continued exemption of the five towns, and that public-houses in them should remain open from two to five instead of from two to seven, as at present. The amendment having been negatived without a division, the second reading of the Bill was carried by 242 to 78.

The Queen has arrived at Darmstadt, and it is officially stated that her Majesty met with the greatest civility and respect from all classes during her pleasant stay at Aix-les-Bains.

It is stated that the rheumatic affection in the left knee from which the Queen suffered before she went abroad has been considerably relieved. Her Majesty has much benefited in health by her sojourn at Aix-les-Bains, although the weather was not favourable. She will arrive at Port Victoria on Wednesday next, on her return to Windsor Castle.

The German Emperor visited the Grand Duke of Oldenburg, at Oldenburg, yesterday, stayed with him two hours, and then proceeded, via Koblenz, to Hagenau, in Alsace, where he will shoot woodcocks in the neighbouring forest to-day. At seven o'clock he will go to Strasburg where he will arrive at eight. There will be no official reception there, but the houses will be decorated, and the school children granted a holiday. On Friday afternoon his Majesty is expected at Darmstadt, and at the Wartburg on Monday, owing to the prolongation of his stay with the Queen.

Prince Henry of Prussia will be appointed Rear Admiral on the return of his squadron. Rear Admiral Hollmann is promoted to Vice Admiral. The latter will probably succeed Admiral Heusner as Imperial Secretary for the Navy.

President Carnot's progress across the island of Corsica was delayed by an unfortunate accident. From Ajaccio a portion of the journey was by train, and the remainder to Corte by carriages. At the latter place the Mayors strongly urged the completion of the railway system by the construction of a line from Vizzanova to Corte. At the latter place the train was entered for Bastia, and at Francardo the President and his Ministers were delayed for three hours, owing to some carriages of a preceding train having left the rails.

Mr Stanley was entertained at luncheon yesterday by the Committee of the Anti-Slavery Society; and in the evening attended a ball given by the African Red Cross Association in behalf of a fund for providing a hospital on the Congo.

The first wife of the Shah of Persia arrived in Vienna yesterday. The object of her journey is to have medical advice as to the ophthalmic disease from which she is suffering. Her suite consists of the Persian Consul-General at Tiflis, the first Court Marshal, three Persian Court ladies, a French companion, four eunuchs, two maids, and other servants. The Vienna terminus was closed to the public on the arrival of the special train, and even the officials were kept out of sight. The Princess alighted at the house of the Persian Minister in Vienna.

The London Diocesan Conference yesterday passed a resolution in favour of the Government Tithes Bill, with a rider, moved by the Bishop of Bedford, declaring it desirable that, when the tithes do not amount to two pounds, the redemption should be made compulsory.

The Bishop of Oxford has addressed a letter to the Secretary of the Berkshire Archæological Society, in which he states that he heartily sympathises with and sanctions the Society's plan of making an inventory of the Church plate in the diocese of Oxford, and he hopes that all the clergy will help, so that the inventory may be complete.

Mr Handel Cossham, Gladstonian member for East Bristol, was taken suddenly ill in the Library of the House of Commons yesterday morning, and was removed to the National Liberal Club, where he shortly afterwards died from heart disease.

A Select Committee of the House of Commons has decided, without calling upon the promoters to reply, to pass the Bill authorising the construction of a railway, commencing by a junction at the South Tottenham Station, passing through Walthamstow, Leytonstone, and Leyton to a junction with the London, Tilbury, and Southend Railway at Forest-gate.

A Conference of Trade Protection Societies was held yesterday at the Westminster Palace Hotel. Resolutions were passed, among other things, in favour of a reform of the Bankruptcy Law, and of the law relating to the contracts of married women; to memorialise the Lord Chancellor as to the advisableness of allowing plaintiffs to sign judgment on default summonses at the expiration of eight days after service; in support of Mr. Winterbotham's Bill relating to the rating of machinery, and in favour of the principle of limited partnerships.

At a special Committee meeting of the National Rifle Association, yesterday, it was intimated that the camp at Bisley will be ready for occupation on July 12, and that the shooting will commence on July 14. The Queen has intimated her intention to present, for the thirty-first time, a prize of two hundred and fifty pounds, to which will be added the gold medal and gold badge, for the highest scorer in the successive stages of the contest. The Prince of Wales has also promised to renew his prize of one hundred pounds.

At the Epsom Spring Meeting yesterday, the Duke of Beaufort's Reve d'Or won the City and Suburban, Baron de Hirsch's Vasistas finishing second, and Mr. J. Lowther's Workington third. Reve d'Or won by a neck.

The trial of an action for compensation for injuries brought against the London and North-Western Railway Company was yesterday concluded before Mr. Justice Denman and a Special Jury. Mrs. Dow, who kept an educational establishment in Finchley-road, fell out of a train near Runcorn, and the question at issue was whether the door was properly fastened, or whether the Plaintiff opened it. The Jury awarded Mrs. Dow twelve hundred pounds damages, in addition to a claim for medical expenses.

Messrs. C. A. Daw and Son, the builders, of the Shaftesbury Estate, abutting on the Bayswater-road, were recently twice fined for constructing gates for the exclusion of the public from the estate. The appeal against this conviction having been argued yesterday, the Lord Chief Justice said that, as the builders derived all the advantage of lighting, watching and drainage, they must give the public the benefit of a thoroughfare. Mr. Justice Matthews concurred, and the conviction was affirmed.

Three men, supposed to be Americans, named Lackrose, Smith and Robinson were tried, at the Central Criminal Court yesterday, for conspiring to steal a bag of notes and gold amounting to £5000. One of them diverted the attention of a Bank clerk for a moment, and immediately Lackrose took up the bag. But the action was noticed, and he said he had taken it by mistake. The three men were apprehended subsequently at the Birkbeck Bank. They were found guilty, and severally sentenced to eighteen months' imprisonment.

George Bryant, a hairdresser, was charged, at the Marylebone Police-court yesterday, with violently assaulting his son, twelve years of age. Because the boy had played truant his father beat him severely with a coil of copper wire. There were several bruises on his body, his hands were bruised and cut and he had two bumps on his forehead. The magistrate, out of consideration to the family dependent on the prisoner, sentenced him to only one month's imprisonment.

Money was one half to one per cent yesterday, and the discount rate about one and three quarters per cent. Prices fell back a little on the Stock Exchange, and the Market all round was sluggish for lack of business. Grand Trunk Stocks rose exceptionally, and closed strong. Consols were one eighth lower for cash, at 98, 98½. The bank has lost net, in gold exported since last Return £454,000.

LONDON LETTER.

FOREIGN GOSSIP.

(From our own Correspondent.)

April 11th.

More Imperial rescripts you see in Berlin. This time they are directed against junkerism in the army. As the Daily News says, if the Emperor can bring German nobles to meet middle-class people at the mess-table and on the parade ground, no task need be beyond his powers. The last rescripts will be the test of his influence now and in the future. He intends that the aristocracy are no longer to have the monopoly of the supply of officers; the military authorities are encouraged to look for their cadets amongst the educated middle class. Rich officers are to set the fashion of moderate expenditure for the benefit of their poorer comrades. As far as we yet know, the effect of the rescripts has been to disalienate the nobles. Some of the higher officers of the crack regiments have already tendered their resignation. On the other hand, the rank and file are being permeated with Socialistic sympathies.

A Dalziel's telegram from Chemnitz says a deep impression has been made there by an order emanating from the Saxon Ministry of the Interior requiring four veteran military organizations in the suburbs of Alt-Chemnitz and Schloss-Chemnitz to remove the Royal arms from their flags and to return all standards and insignia presented to them by the King of Saxony, who is the patron of the military veteran unions through the kingdom. These four organizations are also forbidden to carry firearms or participate in the parades on the birthdays of the German Emperor and the King of Saxony, and are deprived of all the rights and privileges appertaining to the veteran associations in Saxony. This degradation of several hundred veteran soldiers is due to the Socialist spirit pervading their unions. The immediate cause was that one corps recently attended the funeral of Socialists in full uniform, and planted its flag together with the Royal Standard on the grave, while revolutionary speeches were delivered. This decree virtually expels these four corps from the union of Veterans, which is thereby warned that in an association of which the Sovereign is the head there is no room for the enemies of the Royal house.

I regret to see that my Socialist comrades are temping Providence by organising a grand demonstration in all the capitals of Europe on May 1st. What better demonstration do they want than the overthrow of Bismarck and the Imperial Rescripts? The recent riots in Vienna were small affairs and entirely non-political. But there is the danger. A casual row in the same city on May 1st may give the Austrian Government a chance of peppering the Socialists. In Paris they have a nascent M. Bismarck in M. Constans, the Minister of Interior, who is quite ready for them. What greater honour or recognition do they require than the fact that the Report on the Berlin Labour Conference is likely to be based upon the recommendation of the Socialist International party in Paris?

The rumpus about Emin's expedition to Uganda has calmed down. In fact it was very nearly ending in another absurdity, for it was reported that Emin had become again "undecided" and thought of abandoning the idea of returning into the interior of Africa. The Berlin correspondent of the Times assures us that the Imperial Government entertains no scheme whatever of making Emin Pasha the instrument of its aggrandisement outside its own special sphere of influence in East Africa. The official spokesman of the German government admits that the Uganda and Unyoro regions appertain to the English zone of influence, while as for Equatoria, that they contend still belongs to the corresponding sphere of Egypt and through Egypt to that of England.

That is all very nice and prettily official, but some of these days there will be a tremendous fight in Africa. The report is again rife that Dr. Peters and Lieutenant Tiedmann are alive and well and busy hoisting German flags by some mistake on territory within the "Zone of British influence." The German Government promises to have the mistake rectified. I laugh at all this and am called by my German friends hard names because I am incapable of recognising the "Gotterdaemmerung of nations and the gods that move in the misty dawn. I am reminded of our own history and of classical history of Pelops and Hawkine, of Cadmus and Mr H. M. Stanley, and told to bow my weak knees to Gordon's shade. I don't. I won't. I read the Times to my friends. They shut their ears or drown my voice with hideous noises on the piano. However, I go on with the Times. To-day, some Gordon-worshipper and admirer of Stanley in that journal, writing from Cairo, draws a parallel between Gordon and Stanley. There is a tendency, we are told, to find fault with Stanley. The brilliancy of his last feat is acknowledged, but they say his route was ill-chosen, his contract with Tippoo Tib a mistake, his present suit at law against him a still greater mistake, and his letters are in bad taste. Withal he succeeded while Gordon failed. Stanley, we are reminded, believes in a Supreme Being, but trusts to his own arithmetic in calculating time, distance and expenses, when Gordon would leave all to inspiration. Gordon believed himself to be a mere medium for Providential guidance, whilst Stanley well versed in the history of Moses and the Israelites in the desert, is convinced that when hungered, and despairing from emerging from the dark African forest, a guinea-fowl was sent for his especial benefit. Lest it might get away, however, he ups with his gun and shoots it. Gordon died as if a prophecy was about to be fulfilled, and without raising a hand against his slayer. Stanley in his youth wondered at seeing a criminal quietly allow himself to be pinioned and hanged. Stanley says they might have torn him in pieces, but while there was life and hope he would "never give in." Gordon, when requested to accept his mission to Khartoum, asked no questions, but went—trusting to the finger of God. Stanley, in a similar case, made a quick calculation of expenses, which three years afterwards proved to be exact, and said, "Down with the money and I'm off." Stanley had no squeamishness in employing Tippoo-Tib because he was a slave dealer. Gordon was not permitted to employ Zebehr; but had he done so he might have hanged him or decorated him with the Star of Medjid eh, according to circumstances, but certainly would not have subjected him to the indignity of a legal process. Gordon said, "I have often executed men, but never without the direct sanction of the Almighty." Stanley was less particular. Mr. Stanley's Providence satisfies his material wants; General Gordon's Providence satisfies his conscience. Absolute devotion to duty, utter fearlessness, perfect sincerity, and power in the government of men were the attributes both of Gordon and Stanley. With Gordon, duty before all—but the duty was to God. With Stanley the duty was to his neighbor. Gordon spoke of pushing onwards north, south and east—"Together, please God, we will exterminate the slave trade at its roots." Stanley said, "I reckon it was not time for me to 'git,'" my orders say nothing about exterminating the slave trade."

The two columns and a half of the Times, which I have thus rudely condensed, end with this quotation from the Emperor Julian—"It is much easier to worship Christ than to imitate him."

Just so; and the writer of the paragraph adds this, "I know that Gordon himself, were he now living, would regard with equal contempt the well-meant caricatures drawn of him by his worshippers and the efforts to increase his fame at the expense of injustice to others."

The New York Herald, always to the front, publishes to-day the only interview with Stanley that has had any real interest. The interviewer met Stanley on the steamer at Brindisi, on his way to Brussels. He will arrive in England on the 28th instant. The remarks made by Mr. Stanley are of such interest I intend to buy a Herald and send you the complete report. Meantime, I may say that Stanley evidently is of opinion that the Germans contemplate pushing on towards the Soudan, which ultimately means Egypt; and establishing themselves also in the Lake districts in Central Africa, and, finally, he says they will want the coast—the British sphere. Reading between the lines, it is obvious that Stanley only believes in England and is disgusted at the flabbiness and the aimlessness of the British policy in Africa. Mr. Stanley is out of employ. No doubt he would like a commission from Lord Salisbury to take the Soudan. It would cost, he says three millions sterling. Yes, but how much would the world-wide war it might entail cost!

Official invitations to the prayers in the Cathedral and "pranza" in the Government House on Sunday next were sent round yesterday.

Railway Items.

The works of the Buenos Ayres, Ensenada and South Railway are being pushed forward with activity, and the earthworks to Las Piedras are already finished. This concern embraces a valuable concession for a railway from La Plata to Las Piedras, Ajo, Dolores and Balcarce, with branch lines from La Plata to Chascomus and Tandil. All the requisite material is already here, and the permanent way is to be begun at once and will be finished in four or five months. Part of the line—from Arbolito to Balcarce and from Chascomus to Tandil—has been transferred to the Great Southern Railway Company, but we understand through traffic arrangements have been made between the two companies.

Government yesterday ordered the guarantee account of the Argentine Great Western to be paid. The amount, which is due for the half-year ended in April is £71.746-7-8 or $361.602 gold.

Dr. Araoz has written to the Minister requesting his Excellency to return to Messrs. John G. Meiggs Son and Co. $50,000 which these gentlemen had deposited as pledge of good faith when they took over the concession for a railway from Nanducito to Presidencia Roca.

The following are some further particulars, which we clip from the Mexican Financier, about the proposed intercontinental Railway:—

The Pan American Congress has matured a plan for an intercontinental railway, to connect "all or the majority of the nations represented" in the conference. It is recommended that an internal commission of engineers be appointed to study the possible routes, determine their true length, estimate their respective cost, and compare their reciprocal advantages. The commission is to consist of a body of engineers, three to be appointed by each nation, with the privilege of dividing into sub-commissions, and appointing as many other engineers and employes as may be considered necessary for the more rapid execution of the work. The railway, it is recommended, should, so far as common interests will permit, unite the principal cities lying in the vicinity of its route. If this cannot always be conveniently done, branch lines should be built. To the end of diminishing the cost of the undertaking, the existing railways should be utilized as far as possible and compatible with the route and conditions of the continental railway. In case the engineering commission find the plan practicable and advisable, proposals for the construction of the whole work, or sections thereof, should be solicited. The construction, management and operation of the line to be at the expense of the concessionaires, or their sub-contractors. All materials to be admitted duty free, and the line, and its properties of all sorts, to be exempted from every form of taxation. It is recommended that the construction of the railway be encouraged by subsidies, land grants or guarantees of a minimum of interest. The cost of surveys, salaries, etc. to be borne by the respective countries in ratio of population. The railway to be declared forever neutral, for the purpose of assuring freedom of traffic. As soon as the Government of the United States shall receive notice of the acceptance of these recommendations by the other Governments, it shall invite them to appoint the engineers mentioned above. Gen. E. A. Mexia, representing Mexico, on the railway committee of the Congress, was a signer of the report condensed above. The report was then adopted. We learn that the Administration at Washington is deeply interested in this great plan, and that President Harrison and Mr. Blaine saw and approved the above report before it was finally adopted. Mr. Harrison desires to have his term of office signalised by the commencement of work on the intercontinental railway which, it is proposed, to begin here at the City of Mexico, the Central Railway being the standard gauge link, connecting the United States with the new line to begin here, and to run on to the northern frontier of the Argentine Republic.

Mr. Blaine has said that the intercontinental railway, although at first sight apparently one of insurmountable difficulties, is really nothing in comparison with the resources of the allied Governments, and, compared with former undertakings in the United States, such as the old national highway to the west from Washington, the Erie canal, etc., it is really far more practicable, owing to the vast resources of the Government and the advance in engineering skill and mechanical appliances.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The news of the day is from Brazil. Two of the northern provinces are said to be so "clean sick" of the new Republic and its goings on that they have revolted. At least so the story ran yesterday, but there was no confirmation of the news. Brazil will probably split up into two or three Republics, and, perhaps, so best.

The debut of the Italian Opera Company on Tuesday night was a great success from a musical point of view; but "absit omen," the house was not full, and several boxes were empty. Madame Gabbi won the audience by her singing and acting as Desdemona, and was warmly applauded many times. Signor Maurel, as Iago, was coldly received at first, but finally forced the audience to applaud him to the echo. It is needless to say that Tamagno carried all before him from start to finish. Mancinelli's orchestra is splendid.

The diplomatic journals to hand announce the resignation of Count de St-Foix, French Minister in Mexico, owing to ill health. The Count was Minister in Montevideo barely a year ago and greatly liked in society there and here.

The Association of House-owners have again complained to the Home Minister of the course that is being pursued by the lessees of the City Improvement Works.

We note that Dr. William Murray has opened consulting rooms in Calle Cuyo. He is son of the late Professor Murray and nephew of Mr. Miles Pasman. He finished his medical studies here last year, and went to Europe to visit the Paris and Vienna hospitals, also serving some time in the Rotunda Hospital, Dublin.

A public lecture will be delivered this evening by the honorary president of the St. Andrew's Young Men's Society, the Rev. J. W. Fleming, B.D., on "Photography and its History" with illustrations and experiments. The meeting will be held in the Lecture Hall behind the church No. 55, Calle Piedras, and the chair will be taken at eight p.m. punctually. All are invited, admission free.

The third opera produced by the Gargano Company at the San Martin, "La Principessa Riccardo" by Belleville, is likely to prove more enduringly popular than its predecessors. The music is light, bright and melodious and the story intelligible and funny. The interpretation was excellent, Ferdinando Gargano and Sta. Mancini carrying off the honors; Sta. d'Aste, who is a very young girl, scarcely entered on her noviciate, displayed a charming sweet voice and, with experience, will, no doubt, be able to acquire the art of deportment in which she is lamentably deficient. The "mise en scéne" was admirable, and the opera was from first to last rapturously received.

There appears to be still some corn in Egypt, we mean cash in La Plata, where they intend to celebrate the 25th as if there were no crisis. Gunpowder, music, prayers, speeches, cakes, gymnastics, fireworks, theatricals and tea form the bill of fare. We must say that after such a very long and fatiguing day's patriotism something a little stronger than tea will be required to "retemplar el espiritu" (as our magnificent Lord Mayor would say) of the distinguished guests.

Bakers appear to think no small beer of themselves. One of the guild lately sued the Southern Railway for two hundred thousand dollars m/c damages because one of its locomotives smashed his bread cart into little bits and sent him spinning out of it, breaking two of his valuable ribs. The plaintiff was non-suited and he appealed. The higher court has reversed the decision of that below and ordered the Judge to name the damages, which will certainly not come up to the expectations of Signor Fariña, the very appropriate name of the plaintiff in the case.

The Reporter gives the Good Templar of Rosario the following sharp rap over the knuckles: "We should like to see the good Templars do a little more for the good of the order than meeting together and singing hymns. We should like to see them start those coffee shops of which we have heard so much. We should like to see them take the drunkard by the arm, convince him of his mistake and lead him in the proper road. Less theory and more practice would be better. Never weary, friends, in well doing, You have the name, therefore you are entitled to the gain."

It is consoling to hear Bismarck say that war between Russia and Germany is impossible. It was stated the other day that the Czar is inclined for a German alliance. If so Austria may put her "barba en remojo."

General Mitre will leave for Europe in the first week of June, and will be absent a year.

The sheebang keepers on the passenger mole are in tears, as they will soon have to strike their tents when the venerable structure makes way for the Madero Port works. They want to migrate to Dock No. 1; but the Minister of the Interior is not much inclined to let them.

In the parcel-carrying line, our friends on the other side of the river are much ahead of us. The most unfashionable "changador" here would turn up his nose at ten cents, the equivalent of four Montevideo cents: even the Villalonga Company's charge is double that of the sister concern in Montevideo; but Irish and Co. have come to the rescue. See another paragraph. The R. P. Times says:—"It is no longer fashionable to carry even the smallest parcel, not even so much as a box of chocolate creams, for such an act would betray the want of four cents, for which trifling sum the parcel would be promptly delivered at its destination by the "Urgente" Parcel Delivery Company."

The report that the Spanish Government had taken a hundred berths in each homeward bound steamer under its flag for Iberians thrown out of work by the crisis is all pure moonshine. Even the paternal Madrid Government is not so idiotically paternal as this.

In fashionable circles the approaching marriage of ex Dictator Latorre to a fair "viuda" in this city is spoken of.

We were favoured yesterday with the nicely illustrated seed and plant Catalogue of Mr. Raymundo Ortiz de Zarate of No. 78 Calle Tacuari, whose nursery is at Floresta. We recommend it to owners of conservatories and quintas in that direction.

The cold and the crisis have had a curious effect in Rosario and Montevideo. Crime has greatly fallen off in both places. Over the water our colleagues say that the cold weather is the moralizer, whilst in Rosario the crisis is credited with the good work. With empty pockets daggers and drink are not comeatable, and the lower classes behave better. The crisis has its good side, like most persons and things in this wicked world.

The money made by "la belle France" in all ways out of her unequalled Exhibition was 445 millions of francs. We'll lay Uncle Sam the Alleghany Mountains to a wide awake hat that he won't beat this record in his coming biggest Show on earth.

At the Rector's dinner. Miss Hoyden: "I saw young Mr. Simpson indulging in novel reading in church this morning!" Rector: "Good gracious! I never heard of such a thing. What was he reading?" "The Bible; it's very novel reading for Mr. Simpson."

The Zoos have informed Captain Thouvenir, of the French army, that the bit and bridle he submitted to them as an invention of his own are as old as the hills, and were used here forty years ago by the doctors, when they used to go about on horseback instead of in the grand carriages of the present day. They add that the said briddle and bit are of no use, either in war or peace! This is pretty hard on M. le Capitaine's "invention." Some other inventor also submitted a Keen saddle to the Zoos, and their vet., Mr. Viola, declares that it is quite as worthless as the Captain's bit and bridle. Inventors will probably keep clear of our Zoo friends for some time to come. We feel deeply "emocionado" (Like the recipient of an album when returning thanks) on learning that they are so terribly hard-up, (We mean the Zoos, not the inventors, as genius is always out-at-elbows) that the Committee have to stump up $5 per head to keep the association afloat.

The "changadores" may as well give up the ghost. Irish and Co. have started "The Buenos Ayres Parcels Delivery Company" at 572 Victoria, and are certain to do a rattling business. Their prices are so cheap that we are almost afraid of frightening the public by mentioning them. Twenty cents for a 100 lbs. packet from Plaza Victoria to Plaza Constitucion is about as far as the force of cheapness can possibly go in this shin-plastered city.

The latest news from Brazil is that the blow up in Rio Grande is not monarchical, but means the intended secession of that province, to start as a republic on its own account. The Rio Grandenses are the flower of Brazil, and will knock the rest of it into a cocked hat, if they make up their minds to do so.

In farming circles people are beginning to speak disrespectfully of the La Plata Deputies in reference to the proposal to give "primas" to Centros Agricolas. It is objected that many of the collective provincial wisdom are owners of Centros Agricolas.

The corvette Argentina is now all but ready for her long cruise in the North Atlantic. All the midshipmen are on board, and the blue-peter may be tossed to the breeze at any moment.

Scene: Criminal Trial at a Quarter Session. Counsel (cross examining a doctor)—"Surely you ought, as a medical man, to be able to give an opinion without making a mistake." Doctor—"I think physicians make fewer mistakes than barristers, anyhow." Counsel—"Not at all: only your 'mistakes' are buried six feet underground." Doctor (triumphantly)—"And yours are hanged six feet above it." (And then the match was declared drawn.)

BUENOS AYRES CHORAL UNION.

The first annual general meeting of the members of this Society was held in the Salon "La France" on Monday evening, about 40 members attending. The Rev. Cecil Luckman, the president, occupied the chair, and gave a short outline of the proceedings of the Society during the past season, which was on the whole not very satisfactory, either in regard to results or finances, the latter showing a deficiency of $200 in the balance-sheet. This, the Chairman explained, was from unavoidable causes, the Society having borne all the expenses of installation, hire of piano, Hall and purchase of music, and at present had been unable to give a concert for itself. Upon doing so, this debit balance would at once be liquidated. He pointed out the necessity of more enthusiasm among the members, and especially of regular and punctual attendance, when he doubted not that the Society would soon attain its natural position among the English community. He then called upon Mr. Philip Dorman, the hon. treasurer, to formally read the balance-sheet; and afterwards upon Mr. Owen, conductor, to give his ideas as to the prospects of the coming season. No other member making any remark, the Chairman declared the meeting adjourned.

To this, various members objected, and stated that the proper course was for the Committee to be re-elected for the year 1890. The president, however, declared that there was nothing in the rules to the effect that this should be the course of procedure, and stated that the Committee having been elected were a Committee still, and protested that as the meeting was closed this could not now be done. Upon the request of the members, however, the Chairman put it to the meeting whether a new Committee should be elected, the result being that every member present voted nem. con. in its favour.

The nomination and election of the new Committee was then proceeded with, by ballot, the following being the names of those selected:—

Mrs. Dickenson, Miss Mary Lee, Miss Nicholson, Mr J W Holtum, Rev. Cecil Luckman, Dr George Newland, Mr George Nicholson, Mr F A Williams.

On the motion of Mr F A Williams, seconded by Mr F Kidd, Mr H B Owen was unanimously elected conductor for the year and also ex officio member of the Committee.

TESTIMONIAL.

B. Ayres, May 21st, 1890.

To the Editor of THE STANDARD.

The Committee of the Irish Orphanage have considered it a duty to offer Mr William Martin an appropriate token of recognition for the very important part he took in the Amateur Dramatic Performance held at the Teatro Nacional on the 28th of April.

A gold watch chain, with a steel locket set with brilliants, will bear testimony of the Irish Orphans' gratitude to their noble benefactor. This present was offered to Mr. Martin with the accompanying note.

Hoping your columns will be charitable towards these lines,

I beg to remain,
Sincerely yours,
Santiago G. O'Farrell,
President of I. Orph.

ON 'CHANGE.

PRICE OF GOLD TO-DAY.
First Ring.............. 241.00
Second Ring.......... 240.00

Wednesday, May 21st.
Although the day was a momentous one on 'Change, due to the revelations expected in Congress with regard to the state of the finances, negotiations for a loan and the exposition of the new economic plan, there was no change in the market; and everything closed in "statu quo," a phase that may rule the situation for some time. The market is, in fact, in a state of expectancy. Everybody asks about the loan, and it is thought that on this capital point hinges the future course of gold, whether for decline or advance; but as nothing definite is known about the state of the negotiations, holders of the precious metal have the ball to themselves, and keep it rolling to suit their own ends and convenience. It seems also that a large business is being done in passes; a leading colleague says that some private banks advance gold against paper and pay 3 o/o per annum for the latter, whilst on the former they charge nothing and it is employed in passes. This shews how tight paper money is and confirms the conviction that there is as much gold almost as paper in the market. Exchange keeps so high that it is said that bills for £200,000 which could not be passed here have been sent to Montevideo and sold there. Meantime, gold keeps more or less stationary, as also stocks, though the latter are by no means so buoyant as a few days ago.
The following is a summary of operations effected this afternoon during the first ring:—

Messrs. Luis Godoy and Co. sold yesterday the small house Calle Jujuy 831 for 12,100 mjn, buyer Mr. A. Guartiño.
According to Bahia Blanca advices the English bq. Rapid, bound for Bahia Blanca with a cargo of coal for the Southern Railway, has foundered off Monte Hermoso, the captain and crew being taken off by the Italian barque Paula.
Telegrams from Azul announce a tremendous fire in a business house in that town, which has already caused severe damage and threatens to spread.
It seems that the demand for homeward passages is now so great in the Italian packets that the agents have raised the prices all round. For the Citta di Genova $60 per head is charged, although the s.s. Orione has still berths open at $45. This is a melancholy proof of the swell in the tide of emigration.
According to Montevidean advices, the loan has been done, and on most favourable terms, which has caused an advance in all values in the Bolsa. The rate is 85 per cent, and the conditions are that the bankers give £600,000 immediately, and the remainder at short dates. With regard to the port projects, it seems that the Government will reject all and call for new plans, although the Board of Engineers recommended the adoption of the Dillon scheme. All the coffee and tobacco in the market has been bought up for this market.
The Camara Sindical have admitted amongst others Messrs. J. E. Hughes and Hope Van Deurs as brokers; both gentlemen are well known in the market, and will no doubt soon form a large connection. We wish them every success.
According to late cables from European markets Argentine values are steady and in good demand, Cedulas showing even a slight improvement. It was thought that the firmness of gold would produce an unfavourable reaction in Argentine stocks, which, however, has not occurred.
The meeting of shareholders of the Canalizadora del Riachuelo took place yesterday, the report and balance sheet being presented and approved. It was resolved to reduce the capital from 20,000,000 dols. to 11,000,000 and carry forward the profits on the past year's working, which barely amount to ¼ of a million. According to the report the company holds 9,540,173 square yards of land with double frontage on the river and within the federal bounds, which stand in at 1.12 mjn per yd. taking the Cedulas in which they are amortgaged at face value; this price would of course be considerably lower if estimated at the market price of the Cedulas, and furthermore the last three lots bought are nearer to the river than required by the 14th article of the statutes. The manner in which capital is to be reduced as well as the naming of the board were left over for consideration of a new meeting shortly to be held.
El Argentino of Chascomus says that the 4th Agricultural Show and Fair will be held in that town in March or April next, the preliminaries being already under consideration. Chascomus is a great grazing district and has made such advance in refining and improving its flocks and herds that of the 900,000 head of sheep in the partido there is not a single one criollo, of the 34,000 mares and horses only 8000 are criollo, whilst of its 140,000 head of cattle 93,000 are mestizos. There is nothing so stimulative of enterprise as these annual exhibitions in which Chascomus is well to the front.
The La Verdad of Rojas says that the increase in the flocks during March and April is estimated at over 40 o/o.
The following is the port movement:—
The steamer Rio Uruguay is expected in Campana to-morrow from Asuncion and intermediate ports.
The steamer Mytileue is loading produce in Bahia Blanca for Antwerp.
The French mail packet Nerthe clears to-morrow for Rio, Lisbon and Bordeaux.
The steamer Maskelyne clears to-morrow for Antwerp and Southampton with Belgian mails.
The steamer Tibet, which was posted to clear for Marseilles and Genoa on the 22nd, will not leave until the 24th, owing to the delay in getting across Martin Garcia bar.
The steamer Duchessa di Genova clears for same ports on 24th inst.
The Hannover, German packet, clears for Rio and Antwerp on 24th inst.
The Sorata, Pacific packet, will clear from Montevideo for Liverpool on the 25th inst.
The Galicia, Pacific packet, will clear from Montevideo for the West Coast on the 26th inst.

At the second hour little or nothing was done and business was confined to buying and selling at a half point difference, quotations all round being more or less the same as in the morning. There was much inquiry as to what was going on in Congress, and it seems that much importance is attached to the Ministers exposition of the state of the Finances, which it is hoped will be frank and forward, though it is said that matters are so bad that such boldness as would be necessary for a free confession is hardly to be looked for. The quotation closed with sellers for to-morrow at 240. In stocks little or nothing done, and prices rather weakish.

The following is a summary of operations effected this evening at the second ring:—

The Custom House receipts to-day were $205,993.24.

The exchange market remains unaltered, brokers quoting 47⅞-48d. and few takers.

The Argentine Gas Company's meeting of shareholders will be held on 28th inst. and the dividend declared.

The S.A. American Tejedora Company will hold its meeting on 29th to consider Report and balance-sheet, elect directors and syndicate.

The Bolsa Bank meeting of shareholders will be held on June 3rd in the Bolsa at 8 p.m. to elect a syndicate.

We call the special attention of our estancieros on the splendid lot of Dutch animals in the Rural exhibition. We note in the first place 11 bulls and 26 cows, which are really first rate animals, all young and of the purest Dutch blood. They are registered in the Dutch herdbooks and so their origin may be examined from generation to generation. Until now the Argentine Republic has imported chiefly English breeds, and the present International Show is the best proof of the benefit, the country will gain by the introduction of said cattle. Improving their herds in this way Argentine breeders had especially in view meat purposes, but until now little attention was paid to good milk strains. As a consequence meat is abundant in the Republic, but lactiferous produce is relatively scarce. A country like this, that possesses more than fifteen millions of cattle, ought to export this produce on a large scale, instead of importing, as it does, large quantities of cheese, as well as condensed milk. This anomaly can only be mended by importing milking grains. Amongst these, Dutch cattle occupy the front rank. It is no exception for a good Dutch cow to give more than 6,000 liters milk a year, which calculated at the price of 12 centavos represents an annual profit of $720. Whilst the fabrication of butter and cheese yields a larger profit still. Besides the cattle, Holland is to the front with some fine mares and stallions. The mare "Louisa" got a first prize and also the "gran premio" amongst all the light-draft mares exhibited. It is generally known that Count Orloff used Dutch mares for the formation of his celebrated stud, and for many centuries trotting matches have been in Holland. Holland has sent, moreover, to the exhibition, some very good sheep and pigs. We cordially wish our Dutch friends the success with their exhibits that they so fully deserve.

The London Standard, of 24th inst., in its morning article, says:—

A small relapse also occurred in Argentine descriptions, and Buenos Ayres Cedulas left off ½ to 1 lower, at 33½ for the "I," and 31 for the "J" issues. Santa Fe Five per Cents of 1923 rose 2, to 80, and Uruguay descriptions relapsed ¼. Brazilian Four per Cents fell ⅛, to 76⅞, on "bearish" reports of the condition of the country.

Wolseley Sheep Shearing Machine Company, limited.

This company is prepared to supply the Wolseley Sheep Shearing Machines, with their accessories, in any quantities. They are now coming into general use in Australia, where, during the past season upwards of 7,000,000 of sheep have been shorn by them; and it is confidently expected that over 20,000,000 will be shorn by them in that country this year. The following are some of their proved advantages over the ordinary shears:—

Estimated at per sheep per clip.

(1)	Increase is quantity and value of wool (See testimonials)	11d.
(2)	Increased value of pelts owing to total absence of cuts	1
(3)	Saving of 1 per cent, usual allowance for deaths resulting from cuts and stabs	2½
(4)	Saving of labor and time, as the work can be performed in half the time usually occupied with the old style of shearing	1½
	Total per clip per sheep	16d.
(5)	Total absence of suffering to the sheep.

These economies add enormously to the income of the Australian wool-growers, and are applicable relatively to sheep-farmers everywhere.

The Wolesley machines may be seen in actual work at the Agricultural Rural Exhibition at Palermo.

For further particulars apply to the agents, Messrs. Agar, Cross & Co., Calle Defensa 124 á 136, Buenos Ayres, where certificates and testimonials can be seen.

Strange, but perfectly true.
Everybody has an absolutely blind spot in each eye, and its presence may be easily demonstrated by the following simple experiment:

● ✚

Hold this page about a couple of feet away, so that the spot is opposite the left eye and the cross opposite the right. Close the left eye, and fix the gaze of the right steadily on the round spot. Now bring the paper slowly nearer, and a point will be reached when the cross will totally disappear from sight. At a less distance it will reappear, for it is only when the image of the cross is exactly on the blind spot that it is invisible.

Now, gentle reader, another simple experiment, and this time to demonstrate that, blind spots notwithstanding, you are NOT blind to your own interests:—

"Let J. Brown dress you elegantly, yet economically, for cash."

And please note that on and after June 1st J. Brown's address will be 513 Piedad, esquina San Martin,
(above Messrs. Mackern & McLean's establishment)
Prices will not be advanced.
Gentlemen who prefer being waited on with samples will kindly make appointments as heretofore.
Casilla de Correo 1694.

Winter GOODS

Messrs. Gebbie & Co are now showing in their drapery establishment a select assortment of Winter Goods too numerous to mention.

In the Gentlemen's Branch, Scotch and English Tweeds, Serges, Corduroys, etc., etc., which is under the charge of two French cutters.

We are sorry to advise our customers that, owing to the uncertain value of the Dollar, we will be obliged henceforward to sell only for cash.
